

Diversity Internship Program

Set your sail. Explore opportunities outside of your field of study.

Banking is a diverse field that offers excellent development and growth opportunities for inquisitive minds – and in particular for female talents.

Are you one of these curious, interested, and open-minded women? Are you studying a subject outside of banking or finance?

Then take the opportunity and be part of our Diversity Internship Program 2020.

We value diversity and the benefits of a wide range of perspectives.

Working at a financial institution goes beyond knowing about financial products. Most importantly, it is about being a great listener, understanding your client's needs and concerns and finding tailored solutions while building strong and lasting relationships.

Your field of study might not include banking and finance, but if you are a curious and great communicator, enjoy working with people and you got an entrepreneurial mindset, we would love to hear from you!

Learn. Grow.

Success is no coincidence. We believe it is a result of lifelong learning, expertise, and adaption to ever-changing environments. Growing our talent from within through dedicated training is core to our sustainable development. During our Diversity Internship Program, you will benefit from educational activities that nurture your growth and specifically cater to the interests and needs of women exploring the world of banking:

Coaching

- Mentoring, personal exchanges with women in the bank, and career chats to foster development

Banking training

- Training on banking essentials designed for students with a non-banking background

Shadowing days

- Possibility to explore different areas within the bank and get first-hand insights

Networking

- Exclusive events to connect with your internship colleagues

Open minds find great opportunities. Expand your knowledge and skill set that will benefit you throughout your career.

- During our 6-month-Diversity Internship Program you will get a first-hand insight into the financial service industry and different areas within Credit Suisse.
- You will gain valuable experiences for your future career by solving real business challenges.
- We offer you broad learning opportunities and practical experience starting at your first day at work.
- During our on-the-job training, you will be challenged from the start and take over responsibilities for tasks within your team.
