* Proposal of the Board of Directors to shareholders at the Annual General Meeting (AGM) on April 29, 2016. The distribution will be payable in cash or, subject to any legal restrictions applicable in shareholders' home jurisdictions, in new shares of Credit Suisse Group at the option of the shareholder. The Board proposes an increase in authorized capital to among other things service a stock or scrip dividend. In case the AGM does not support such increase, no distribution will take place.

Credit Suisse at a Glance

We aim to be a leading private bank and wealth manager with distinctive investment banking capabilities. We take a balanced approach in order to capture the wealth management opportunities in emerging markets, the largest of which is in the Asia Pacific region, while also serving our key developed markets with an emphasis on our home market of Switzerland. Founded in 1856, we today have a global reach with operations in over 50 countries and 48,200 employees from over 150 different nations.

Editorial

Message from the Chairman and the CEO

Dear Reader

2015 was a year of transition for Credit Suisse. Following the change in Chief Executive Officer in July 2015, we conducted an in-depth review of our businesses and long-term objectives and subsequently announced a new strategic direction on October 21, 2015. Our ambition is to be a leading private bank and wealth manager with distinctive investment banking capabilities that is able to grow profitably and generate capital through the economic cycle.

In line with our new strategy, we announced a simplified organizational structure with three regionally focused divisions – the Swiss Universal Bank, International Wealth Management, and Asia Pacific. They are supported by two divisions focusing on investment banking capabilities – Global Markets and Investment Banking & Capital Markets. With this new structure, we can respond more flexibly to our clients' needs by enabling our regionally focused divisions to leverage our combined expertise and resources in wealth management and investment banking. In addition, we continue to reduce the size of our investment bank to ensure that it supports our wealth management activities, consumes less capital and generates less volatile earnings.

To ensure that Credit Suisse has a strong capital position to deliver on its new strategy and capture attractive opportunities for growth, we announced a capital increase by way of a private placement and a rights offering, which was concluded in December 2015. With the strengthened balance sheet, we are confident that we can deliver on our commitments and our capital allocation strategy focuses on businesses that offer returns in excess of their cost of capital. We believe that this will lead to increased investment in our regional divisions at the same time as we increase returns on capital in our investment banking activities. We also plan to allocate more resources to our home market of Switzerland, where we have a strong franchise and capabilities, and to our growth markets in the emerging economies, particularly in the Asia Pacific region, where we also have a strong franchise.

Despite the currently challenging operating environment for banks with growing investor uncertainty and volatile markets, we are confident that with our new strategy, our regionally and client-focused structure and our new management team, we are positioned to deliver over time compliant, well controlled and profitable growth and returns for our shareholders. Thanks to our clients' and shareholders' continued trust in Credit Suisse, as well as our employees' dedication, we will continue to remain focused on deploying all our capabilities and expertise to best service our clients. We will implement our strategy with determination and are confident to deliver on the targets we have set for end-2018.

Best regards

Urs Rohner

Strategy

Our strategy builds on Credit Suisse's core strengths: our position as a leading global wealth manager, our specialist investment banking capabilities and our strong presence in our home market of Switzerland. We serve our clients through three regionally focused divisions: Swiss Universal Bank, International Wealth Management and Asia Pacific. These regional businesses are supported by two divisions specializing in investment banking capabilities: Global Markets and Investment Banking & Capital Markets. Our business divisions cooperate closely to provide holistic financial solutions, including innovative products and specially tailored advice.

Credit Suisse: integrated business model

Swiss Universal Bank

Offers comprehensive advice and a wide range of financial solutions to private, corporate and institutional clients primarily domiciled in Switzerland. The division comprises the Private Banking and Corporate & Institutional Banking businesses.

International Wealth Management

Caters to the needs of our private, corporate and institutional clients in Europe, the Middle East, Africa and Latin America with expert advice and a broad range of financial solutions. We also leverage the full spectrum of Credit Suisse's global resources and capabilities to best serve clients.

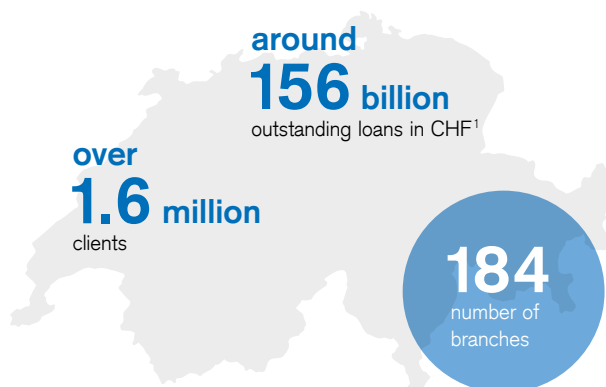

Asia Pacific

Provides integrated private banking and investment banking financial solutions to wealthy individuals, institutional investors and corporate clients in the Asia Pacific region, where we have a strong franchise.

Home market

In Switzerland, Credit Suisse has a longstanding tradition and is a leading bank for retail, private, corporate and institutional clients.

¹ Including mortgages and loans to private sector companies, to the public sector and to private clients.

Global Markets

Offers a broad range of equities and fixed income products and services and focuses on client-driven businesses and on supporting Credit Suisse's private banking businesses and their clients.

Investment Banking & Capital Markets

Provides a wide spectrum of investment banking products and services, including advisory and underwriting services to corporations, financial institutions, financial sponsors, UHNWI and sovereign clients.

Strategic Resolution Unit

Facilitates the rapid wind-down of the bank's portfolios that do not fit our new strategic direction in order to reduce the negative impact on the overall Group performance.

Swiss Universal Bank

Within the Swiss Universal Bank division, we combine all the strengths of our retail, wealth management, corporate, institutional and investment banking activities. Given our strong franchise, we are able to meet the needs of our Swiss clients with a broad suite of customized products and services. We continue to serve the entire spectrum of clients from retail to UHNWI, from small to large corporate and institutional clients as well as external asset managers.

Investment Banking businesses

Our three regionally focused divisions are supported by two divisions specialized in investment banking capabilities: Global Markets and Investment Banking & Capital Markets.

In line with our new strategic direction, we have applied a targeted approach to right-sizing our investment banking businesses. Our intention is to focus on the businesses that support our wealth management clients, and businesses where we have leading market positions and that deliver returns in excess of their cost of capital. In particular, within our Global Markets division, we continue to right-size our operations by exiting or downsizing selected businesses consistent with our lower risk profile and higher return on capital objectives.

Our optimization activities have been focused on creating the most profitable combination of our existing businesses, and we intend to continue to improve the capital productivity across all of our businesses.

Corporate Functions

Providing corporate services and business solutions

Our operating businesses are supported by focused corporate functions, including the newly established positions of Chief Operating Officer and Chief Compliance & Regulatory Affairs Officer. Corporate functions provide centralized corporate services and business support, as well as effective and independent control procedures in the following areas:

Finance

Manages the Group's capital, funding, liquidity and expenses to ensure we are well capitalized and have a strong balance sheet.

Operations, Technology & Services

The Chief Operating Officer focuses on driving the transformation of Credit Suisse and oversees, among other things, global operations, information technology and our centers of excellence.

Risk

The Chief Risk Officer governs the Group's risk management framework and provides independent risk oversight.

Compliance & Regulatory Affairs

The Chief Compliance & Regulatory Affairs Officer function focuses on monitoring bank activities and coordinating regulator interactions.

General Counsel

Provides legal, policy and regulatory advice, especially in the context of potential or actual legal matters and investigations. It drives strategic legal risk management and manages our relationship with political stakeholders.

Human Resources, Communications & Branding

Responsible for attracting, retaining and developing our employees, driving our global communications strategy and developing and strengthening the Credit Suisse brand.

Corporate Responsibility

Adopting a responsible approach to business in all aspects of our work

A responsible approach to business is a key factor in determining our long-term success. For Credit Suisse, corporate responsibility is about creating sustainable value for clients, shareholders, employees and other stakeholders. We have a broad understanding of our duties as a financial services provider, member of society and employer. Our approach also reflects our commitment to protecting the environment.

Responsibility in banking

As part of our responsibility in banking, we consider social and environmental aspects when conducting our business and develop sustainable products and services.

Corporate Governance

Ensuring compliance based on the best international practices

The way we interact with our stakeholders is fundamental for our business and our success. Safeguarding our reputation is one of our core principles. We strive to act with integrity, responsibility, fairness and transparency at all times in order to secure the trust of our stakeholders.

Our Corporate Governance Framework

Credit Suisse's corporate governance complies with internationally accepted standards. We are committed to safeguarding the interests of our stakeholders and recognize the importance of good corporate governance.

Code of Conduct

Our Code of Conduct establishes ethical values and professional standards across the bank and guides our efforts to maintain and strengthen our reputation for integrity, fair dealing and measured risk-taking.

Shareholder Rights

We are fully committed to the principle of equal treatment of all shareholders and encourage them to participate in the Annual General Meeting and execute their voting rights.

Managing Risk

Our risk management framework is based on transparency, management accountability and independent oversight. Risk management is an integral part of our business planning process with strong involvement of senior management and the Board of Directors.

Compensation Policy

We are committed to employing a responsible compensation approach that rewards excellence, ensures a prudent approach to risk-taking and aligns our employees' interests with those of our shareholders.

Broadly diversified shareholder base

We have a broad shareholder base, with the majority of shares owned directly or indirectly by institutional investors outside Switzerland. By year-end 2015, 112,938 shareholders were listed on our share register.

Key Developments 2015

Events that shaped the markets and developments at Credit Suisse

Credit Suisse 2015

- March 10 The Board of Directors of Credit Suisse Group AG appointed Tidjane Thiam as the new Chief Executive Officer. Tidjane Thiam took over as CEO from Brady W. Dougan, who stepped down at the end of June 2015.
- April 24 Credit Suisse Group AG held its Annual General Meeting in Zurich and the shareholders approved all of the proposals of the Board of Directors.
- July 1 Tidjane Thiam took office as CEO of Credit Suisse Group AG.
- October 21 Credit Suisse Group AG announced its new strategic direction, organizational structure and management changes.
- November 19 Credit Suisse Group AG held its Extraordinary General Meeting in Berne, at which the shareholders approved the two proposed capital increases: a proposed rights offering and a private placement.
- December 3 Credit Suisse Group AG concluded its capital increases, raising a gross total of CHF 6 billion. Following the capital increase, Credit Suisse reported a look-through CET1 capital ratio of 11.4% at year-end 2015, the strongest in its history.

Capital ratio progression
Look-through CET1

Global 2015

- January 15 The Swiss National Bank announced the discontinuation of the minimum exchange rate of CHF 1.20 per euro, which led to a rapid strengthening of the Swiss franc against the euro (up to 30%).

CHF/EUR & CHF/USD exchange rate 2015

- January 22 The ECB announced the launch of its Quantitative Easing (QE) program and began purchasing Eurozone government bonds as a means of lowering bond yields and pushing the rate of inflation back towards its medium-term target of 2%.
- June–July Greece, as the first country ever falling into arrears by missing a payment on an International Monetary Fund loan, announcing the introduction of capital controls.
- August 11 The People's Bank of China announced to depreciate the renminbi against the US dollar in order to push its economy's stagnating growth. This led to an immediate depreciation of the renminbi by 1.8%.
- December For the first time since 2009, the price of a barrel of oil fell below USD 40, as the excessive supply of oil and concerns about China's economic growth adversely impacted the price.
- December 3 The ECB announced to extend its QE program for another six months until March 2017 "or beyond" and further cut key interest rates to a historic low of negative 0.3%.
- December 16 For the first time in almost 10 years the US Federal Reserve raised its interest rate by 25 basis points.

As of January 1, 2013, Basel III was implemented in Switzerland along with the Swiss "Too Big to Fail" legislation and regulations thereunder. As of January 1, 2015, the BIS leverage ratio framework, as issued by BCBS, was implemented in Switzerland by FINMA. The related disclosures are in accordance with Credit Suisse's interpretation of such requirements, including relevant assumptions. Changes in the interpretation of these requirements in Switzerland or in any of Credit Suisse's assumptions or estimates could result in different numbers from those shown herein.

References to phase-in and look-through included herein refer to Basel III requirements. Phase-in under the Basel III capital framework reflects that, for the years 2014–2018, there will be a five-year (20% per annum) phase-in of goodwill and other intangible assets and other capital deductions (e.g., certain deferred tax assets) and, for the years 2013–2022, there will be a phase out of certain capital instruments. Look-through assumes the full phase-in of goodwill and other intangible assets and other regulatory adjustments and the full phase out of certain capital instruments.

Unless otherwise noted, leverage exposure is based on the BIS leverage ratio framework and consists of period-end balance sheet assets and prescribed regulatory adjustments.

We may not achieve all of the expected benefits of our strategic initiatives. Factors beyond our control, including but not limited to the market and economic conditions, changes in laws, rules or regulations and other challenges discussed in our public filings, could limit our ability to achieve some or all of the expected benefits of these initiatives.

For the purposes of this report, unless the context otherwise requires, the terms "Credit Suisse", "Group", "we", "us" and "our" mean Credit Suisse Group AG and its consolidated subsidiaries.

Cautionary statement regarding forward-looking information

This report contains statements that constitute forward-looking statements. In addition, in the future we, and others on our behalf, may make statements that constitute forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking statements may include, without limitation, statements relating to the following:

- our plans, objectives or goals;
- our future economic performance or prospects;
- the potential effect on our future performance of certain contingencies; and
- assumptions underlying any such statements.

Words such as "believes," "anticipates," "expects," "intends" and "plans" and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements but are not the exclusive means of identifying such statements. We do not intend to update these forward-looking statements except as may be required by applicable securities laws.

By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve inherent risks and uncertainties, both general and specific, and risks exist that predictions, forecasts, projections and other outcomes described or implied in forward-looking statements will not be achieved. We caution you that a number of important factors could cause results to differ materially from the plans, objectives, expectations, estimates and intentions expressed in such forward-looking statements. These factors include:

- the ability to maintain sufficient liquidity and access capital markets;
- market volatility and interest rate fluctuations and developments affecting interest rate levels;
- the strength of the global economy in general and the strength of the economies of the countries in which we conduct our operations, in particular the risk of continued slow economic recovery or downturn in the US or other developed countries in 2016 and beyond;
- the direct and indirect impacts of deterioration or slow recovery in residential and commercial real estate markets;
- adverse rating actions by credit rating agencies in respect of us, sovereign issuers, structured credit products or other credit-related exposures;
- the ability to achieve our strategic objectives, including improved performance, reduced risks, lower costs and more efficient use of capital;
- the ability of counterparties to meet their obligations to us;
- the effects of, and changes in, fiscal, monetary, exchange rate, trade and tax policies, as well as currency fluctuations;
- political and social developments, including war, civil unrest or terrorist activity;
- the possibility of foreign exchange controls, expropriation, nationalization or confiscation of assets in countries in which we conduct our operations;
- operational factors such as systems failure, human error, or the failure to implement procedures properly;
- actions taken by regulators with respect to our business and practices and possible resulting changes to our business organization, practices and policies in countries in which we conduct our operations;
- the effects of changes in laws, regulations or accounting policies or practices in countries in which we conduct our operations;
- competition or changes in our competitive position in geographic and business areas in which we conduct our operations;
- the ability to retain and recruit qualified personnel;
- the ability to maintain our reputation and promote our brand;
- the ability to increase market share and control expenses;
- technological changes;
- the timely development and acceptance of our new products and services and the perceived overall value of these products and services by users;
- acquisitions, including the ability to integrate acquired businesses successfully, and divestitures, including the ability to sell non-core assets;
- the adverse resolution of litigation, regulatory proceedings, and other contingencies;
- the ability to achieve our cost efficiency goals and cost targets; and
- our success at managing the risks involved in the foregoing.

We caution you that the foregoing list of important factors is not exclusive. When evaluating forward-looking statements, you should carefully consider the foregoing factors and other uncertainties and events, including the information set forth in "Risk factors" in chapter I – Information on the company in our Annual Report 2015.
