

The Investment Fund Income Plan

Benefit from your assets for longer

What you need to know about the Investment Fund Income Plan

You've achieved a savings target, and now you'd like to benefit from your capital for as long as possible. The investment fund income plan from Credit Suisse offers you a comfortable way of doing just that.

The principle of the investment fund income plan is simple

- You make an initial investment in the fund and choose an amount that you would like to withdraw on a regular basis.
- The remaining capital stays invested in your fund, providing a long-term basis for additional returns.
- Your assets can grow, enabling you to draw on your savings for a longer period.
- With the investment fund income plan, you can also take advantage of solutions that match your personal investment strategy. You have a range of Credit Suisse funds to choose from.
- You can also invest in different markets and currencies in a dissaving situation.

Take the first step toward enjoying your assets

If you have already invested your assets in selected Credit Suisse investment funds¹, you can simply transfer these assets to an investment fund income plan. If you do not yet own any investment funds, you can open your investment fund income plan by making your initial investment in cash.

Your benefits

- Systematic, regular payouts while maintaining attractive earnings potential over the long term
- Additional issue and redemption of fund units at any time free of charge

1 In accordance with the "Selected investment fund savings and income plans."

Risks

Investment funds are simple, proven, versatile instruments. However, they also involve certain risks. Credit Suisse is glad to provide its expertise to help you make investment decisions that minimize these risks.

- Market risk: With investment funds, you invest in various financial markets and are exposed to price fluctuations on these markets.
- Currency risk: Investing in a variety of financial markets can carry currency risks.
- Low influence: Investment decisions within the fund are made by the fund management team and cannot be influenced.
