

Multi-Payment Order

The Simple Solution for Placing Payment Orders with Payment Slips at Credit Suisse

The multi-payment order is an order form that lets you easily initiate payments with payment slips.

Your Needs

You want to easily and conveniently pay your invoices (with a payment slip).

You want a single order form for one or several slips and for payments at home and abroad.

Our Solution

Several payment slips in the same currency can be initiated using a multi-payment order.

The multi-payment order is also suitable for payments abroad.

Your Benefits

- No charge for using multi-payment order forms
- Customized form with detachable address label for return to the service center
- Execution of your order on the desired execution date

Requirements and Conditions

Payments will be debited from the printed account. Additional instructions to the Bank cannot be issued using a multi-payment order. If an execution date is prescribed, the order must be received by the Bank's service center at least one business day in advance. With no instruction or with the mention "immediately," your order will be executed one business day after receipt. Forms must be stored securely to protect against unauthorized access.

Additional Services

Depending on the account settings, there are two advice and booking versions:

- Private clients: Individual bookings without advice (notification via statement). Upon request, the client can choose "Debit Advice: Yes" in the order. In this case, individual advice slips are produced.
- Corporate clients: Collective entries with debit listing. Upon request, the client can choose "Debit Advice: No" in the order. In this case, no debit listing is created.

Alternative Products

- Payment order/standing order form for individual payments with no payment slips attached
- Electronic order placement via Online Banking
- E-bill is suitable for clients who would like to receive paperless bills that they can easily check and settle via Direct Net
