Marketing Disclaimer

This document is provided to you for your information and discussion only. It is not a solicitation or an offer to buy or sell any security or other financial instrument. Any information including facts, opinions or quotations, may be condensed or summarised and is expressed as of the date of writing. The information may change without notice and Credit Suisse (UK) Limited ("Credit Suisse") is under no obligation to ensure that such updates are brought to your attention.

The price and value of investments mentioned and any income that might accrue could fall or rise or fluctuate. Past performance is not a guide to future performance. If an investment is denominated in a currency other than your base currency, changes in the rate of exchange may have an adverse effect on value, price or income. You should consult with such advisor(s) as you consider necessary to assist you in making these determinations. Nothing in this document constitutes legal, accounting or tax advice. Credit Suisse does not advise on the tax consequences of investments and you are advised to contact a tax advisor should you have any questions in this regard. The levels and basis of taxation are dependent on individual circumstances and are subject to change.

This document has been prepared from sources Credit Suisse believes to be reliable but we do not guarantee its accuracy or completeness and do not accept liability for any loss arising from its use. Credit Suisse reserves the right to remedy any errors that may be present in this document.

Credit Suisse its affiliates and/or their employees may have a position or holding, or other material interest or effect transactions in any securities mentioned or options thereon, or other investments related thereto and from time to time may add to or dispose of such investments. Credit Suisse may be providing, or have provided within the previous 12 months, significant advice or investment services in relation to the investment concerned or a related investment to any company or issuer mentioned. Some investments referred to in this document will be offered by a single entity or an associate of Credit Suisse or Credit Suisse may be the only market maker in such investments. This document is intended only for the person to whom it is issued by Credit Suisse. It may not be reproduced either in whole, or in part, without our written permission. The distribution of this document and the offer and sale of the investment in certain jurisdictions may be forbidden or restricted by law or regulation.

Investments may have no public market or only a restricted secondary market. Where a secondary market exists, it is not possible to predict the price at which investments will trade in the market or whether such market will be liquid or illiquid. As such investments will not be listed or traded on any exchange, pricing information may be more difficult to obtain and the liquidity of the investments may be adversely affected. A holder may be able to realise value prior to an investment's maturity date only at a price in an available secondary market. The Issuer of the investment may have entered into contracts with third parties to create the indicated returns and/or any applicable capital protection (in part or in full). The investment instrument's retention of value is dependent not only on the development of the value of the underlying asset, but also on the creditworthiness of the Issuer and/or Guarantor (as applicable), which may change over the term of the investment instrument. In the event of default by the Issuer and/or Guarantor of the investment and/or any third party, the investment or any income derived from such contracts is not guaranteed and you may get back none of, or less than, what was originally invested. Parties other than the Issuer or Guarantor (as appropriate) mentioned in this document (for instance the Lead Manager, Co-structurer, Calculation Agent or Paying Agent) do neither guarantee repayment of the invested capital nor financial return on the investment product, if nothing is indicated to the contrary.

You may have to accept smaller returns on an investment relative to a direct investment in the underlying index, basket, etc. because of the costs involved in providing the capital protection. Such capital protection normally only applies if the investment is held until maturity. The amount of initial capital to be repaid may be geared, which means that a fall in the underlying index or securities may result in a larger reduction in the amount repaid to investors. Where this document relates to packaged products (such as regulated collective investment schemes), any advice offered to retail clients is based on a selection of products from the whole of the market. Where this document relates to emerging markets you should refer to the Risk Disclosures section of the Credit Suisse Terms of Business. Additional information is, subject to duties of confidentiality, available from Credit Suisse upon request.

Hedge Fund strategies may include the use of leverage (borrowing) and derivative instruments resulting in certain risks, some of which are as follows: leveraged investments, by their nature, increase the potential loss to investors resulting from any depreciation in the value of such investments. Consequently, a relatively small price movement in a leveraged instrument may result in a substantially greater loss to the Hedge Fund. The market in some of the investments made as part of a Fund's strategy may be relatively illiquid, giving rise to potential difficulties in valuing and disposing of such investments. Information for determining the value of investments held by a Fund may not be readily available which has corresponding implications for the overall valuation of a Fund. Accurate risk profiling of the Fund holdings may also not be readily available. Always refer to the Fund's Prospectus and/or the Key Investor Information Document before making an investment.
