I. Background

With reference to Master Circular on Customer Service in Banks issued by Reserve Bank of India, vide DBR No.Leg.BC. 21/09.07.006/2015-16 dated July 1, 2014 banks were advised that Customer Service should be projected as a priority objective of banks along with profit, growth and fulfillment of social obligations. Banks should have a board approved policy to take care of the customers' needs.

Broadly, a customer can be defined as a user or a potential user of bank's services. So defined, a 'Customer' may include:

- A person or entity that maintains an account and/or has a business relationship with the bank;
- One, on whose behalf the account is maintained (i.e. the beneficial owner);
- Beneficiaries of transactions conducted by professional intermediaries, such as Stock Brokers, Chartered Accountants, Solicitors, etc., as permitted under the law, and
- Any person or entity connected with a financial transaction which can pose significant reputational or other risks to the bank, say, a wire transfer or issue of a high value demand draft as a single transaction.

Further, as advised by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), Indian Banks' Association (IBA) has forwarded through its letter dated 28.11.2011, a list of 77 recommendations of the Committee on Customer Service in Banks, popularly known as Damodaran Committee for immediate implementation by the Bank. Out of those recommendations, recommendation no. 44, 71 & 72 are stipulated as under:

No.	Recommendation
44	The Banks must have a well-defined policy that sets out their approach to Customer Care. This also must take into account the human resources angle starting from recruitment Process to take care of attitudinal aspects.
71	The Board should ensure that the following policies are in place : A comprehensive policy for Customer Acceptance, Customer Care and Customer Severance.
72	The policies should clearly lay out approach to Customer Care taking into account the geographic spread of branches, segments of customers, need of special sections like senior citizens, widows, physically challenged persons etc. This policy must also clearly define and distinguish the features for different products and services and must indicate the target customer group.

To implement the above referred recommendations, the Bank is under an obligation to formulate a comprehensive Policy on Customer Service and Customer Severance, which will primarily govern the operational aspects of Account opening, Customer Care facilities and Customer Severance. In line with the RBI guidelines envisaged in the above circulars, we have formulated our Customer Service Policy which is summarized as under.

Credit Suisse's reputation for integrity and fair dealing is one of its most valuable assets. In conducting business and dealing with other employees, clients and third parties, the Bank must ensure that it maintains the highest standards of ethics and professionalism. The Bank must also commit to maintaining a strong control culture at Credit Suisse to safeguard the Bank's reputation. In particular, the Bank should consider both whether a proposed course of action complies with all applicable laws, regulations and Bank policies and whether it could reflect poorly on the Bank. Remember, all activities will be reviewed with the benefit of hindsight. The Bank must avoid not only actual misconduct, but also any appearance of impropriety. Commitment to a strong control culture also means that the Bank proactively questions unusual incidents and it is the Bank's obligation, in accordance with the policy on Reporting Unusual Incidents and Misconduct, to report such incidents, as well as potential or actual misconduct. If the staff is unsure about the appropriate course of action, the staff should consult his/her supervisor or the General Counsel Department ("GCD").

This Policy, however, does not constitute an all-inclusive, exhaustive treatment of the laws, regulations and Bank policies governing staff conduct.

Term Deposit Account

Bank has a separate detailed and Comprehensive Deposit policy.

Repayment of Term deposit in joint names

Term Deposit account may be opened in joint names with operating instructions ‘Either or Survivor’ or ‘Former or Survivor’, as the case may be. If a Term Deposit account is opened with operating instructions ‘either or survivor’, the repayment of the deposit will be dealt with as under:

1. For payment of the amount of deposit on maturity: signature of both the depositor need not be obtained. Anyone can receive the payment subject to Income Tax law by crediting to the account of any one, beyond Rs.20,000/-.In case the deposit is to be paid before maturity: Signature of both the depositors will be obtained.

2. If one of the depositors expires before maturity, no pre-payment of Term Deposit will be allowed without concurrence of the legal heirs of the deceased joint depositor. This, however, will not stand in the way of making payment to survivor on maturity.
 - In case the customers' mandate is 'former or survivor', the former alone can operate or withdraw the matured term deposit, when both the depositors are alive.
 - In case the customers' mandate is 'former or survivor' and the deposit is to be paid before maturity, the signatures of both the depositors are to be obtained.
 - If the former expires before maturity in an account having customers' mandate 'former or survivor', the deposit is to be paid to the survivor on maturity.
 - When a fixed deposit account is opened in the joint as 'Either or Survivor' basis and the said joint depositors already have a savings bank account in their names jointly on 'Either or Survivor' instructions, on maturity of the fixed deposit, proceeds of the matured fixed deposit can be credited to the joint savings bank account already opened in the bank. There is no need for opening a separate savings bank account in the name of the first depositor for crediting the proceeds of the fixed deposit

Premature withdrawal would, however, require the consent of both the parties, when both of them are alive, irrespective of the operational instruction of 'either or survivor' or 'former or survivor'

Payment of interest on Accounts Frozen by Banks

Banks are at times required to freeze the accounts of customers based on the orders of the enforcement authorities. As best practice, bank will follow the procedure detailed below in the case of Term Deposit Accounts frozen by the enforcement authorities:

1. A request letter will be obtained from the customer on maturity. While obtaining the request letter from the depositor for renewal, the bank will also advise him to indicate the term for which the deposit is to be renewed. In case the depositor does not exercise his option of choosing the term for renewal, the bank may renew the same for a term equal to the original term.
2. No new receipt will be issued. However, suitable note will be made regarding renewal in the deposit ledger.
3. Renewal of deposit may be advised by registered letter / speed post / courier service to the concerned Government department under advice to the depositor. In the advice to the depositor, the rate of interest at which the deposit is renewed will be mentioned.
4. If overdue period does not exceed 14 days on the date of receipt of the request letter, renewal may be done from the date of maturity. If it exceeds 14 days, banks may pay interest for the overdue period as per the policy adopted by them, and keep it in a separate interest free sub-account which should be released when the original fixed deposit is released.

Further, with regard to the savings bank accounts frozen by the Enforcement authorities, banks will continue to credit the interest to the account on a regular basis.

Classification of accounts as dormant or in-operative

A savings account or a Current account will be treated as inoperative/ dormant if there are no transactions in the account for over a period of two years. For the purpose of classifying an account as 'inoperative' both the type of transactions i.e. debit as well as credit transactions induced at the instance of the customers as well as third party should be considered. However, the service charges levied by the bank or interest credited by the bank are not considered transaction for this purpose. Incidentally, if the interest on Fixed Deposit account of the customer is credited to the Savings Bank account as per mandate of the customer, the same should be treated as customer induced transaction.

Operation in such accounts may be allowed after due diligence as per risk category of the customer. Due diligence would mean ensuring genuineness of the transaction, verification of the signature and identity etc. However, the Bank will ensure that the customer is not inconvenienced as a result of extra care taken by the bank.

1. There will not be any charge for activation of inoperative account.
2. The Bank will ensure that the amounts lying in inoperative accounts ledger are properly audited by the internal auditors / statutory auditors of the bank.
3. The Bank will launch a special drive for finding the whereabouts of the customers / legal heirs in respect of existing accounts which have already been transferred to the separate ledger of 'inoperative accounts'.
4. The Bank will display the list of unclaimed deposits/inoperative accounts which are inactive/ inoperative for ten years or more on its website
5. To strengthen the regulatory framework for inoperative accounts and unclaimed deposits, Bank will have a Board approved policy on classification of unclaimed deposits; grievance redressal mechanism for quick resolution of complaints; record keeping; and periodic review of such accounts. Periodic review of unclaimed deposits/inoperative accounts will be put up to Local Management Committee every year.
6. Three months before classifying an account as in-operative, Bank will issue a Notice to the customer at his recorded address to operate the account to keep the account active. However, there will not be any charge for activation of inoperative account. Interest on savings bank accounts will be credited on regular basis whether the account is operative or not.

XVIII. Creating a positive customer

Bank has taken the pledge to achieve zero complaint status for which behavioural pattern of the employees has great bearing on customer environment. A long term plan since recruitment of the employees, takes care of this aspect so as to ensure that with proper training of soft skill, work knowledge, professional mannerism, the customers are offered pleasant surprises.

The employee, who has an attitude of wanting to help solve a problem, is the key person to ensure zero complaint status. Therefore, starting from the recruitment process, the attitude of the prospective employees will be judged very critically. Rude & improper behaviour with the customers, not only gives rise to complaint, the image of the bank is tarnished and entails adverse effect on business prospect. Before hiring an employee, examination of behavioural pattern and attitude of the prospective employee will be thoroughly checked in a scientific manner.

XIX. Customers Confidentiality Obligations

The Bank's obligation to maintain secrecy arises out of the contractual relationship between the Bank and the customer and as such no information should be divulged by anybody of the branch/branch to third parties except under circumstances which are well defined. The following exceptions to the said rule are normally accepted:

- where disclosure is under compulsion of law
- where there is duty to the public to disclose
- where interest of bank requires disclosure and
- where the disclosure is made with express or implied consent of the customer

Accordingly, if the Bank receives a complaint, escalate it promptly pursuant to local procedures, taking into account the considerations noted above. If the staff has any doubt as to whether a client communication constitutes a complaint, they must notify their supervisor and LCD. The staff should consult their relevant divisional, regional and/or local policies for further guidance.

For more information, go to Handling Client Complaints \(GP-00029\).

XX. The extra effort for the sake of Customer assistances and Conclusion

All employees should make a conscious effort to assist a customer in finding what he or she needs in resolving the issue, if there is one. If the solution to an issue does not lie with the Bank, the staff shall to the best of their knowledge and capacity, extend necessary guidance to the customer with regard to the person/authority to be approached for resolution of the issue and the manner of doing so.
