Amendment to the Fund Contract

Credit Suisse Asset Management Funds AG, Zurich, as the fund manager, with the approval of Credit Suisse AG, Zurich, as the custodian bank, intends to make the following amendment to the fund contract:

The aforementioned subfunds will now invest two-thirds of the assets (previously 85%) in bonds (including convertible bonds, convertible notes, and warrant bonds), notes and other fixed or variable-interest debt securities and rights (including asset and mortgage-backed debt instruments) of average or high quality (rated at least "BBB-" by Standard & Poor's, "Baa3" by Moody's, or the equivalent by another recognized ratings agency), in all currencies, issued by private, semi-private and public-sector borrowers worldwide; in addition, these debt securities must no longer have been issued prior to March 1, 2001.

Furthermore, the fund management may now invest one-third of the assets (previously 15%), in accordance with the conditions set out in the fund contract, in:

- equity securities and participation rights (equities, dividend-right certificates, cooperative shares, participation certificates, etc.) as well as warrants on the permitted investments of issuers worldwide;
- fixed or variable-interest debt securities and rights that do not meet the requirements with respect to rating;
- money-market instruments recognized by the supervisory authority as securities, of issuers worldwide and in all currencies;
- units of other collective investment schemes;
- liquid assets in all currencies in which investments are permitted.

The changes may mean that the subfunds are subject to EU taxation of savings income. In addition, the de minimus clause applied to waive the distribution of income will be amended to match the current practice of the Federal Tax Administration.

The prospectus with integrated fund contract, simplified prospectuses, and the wording of the changes, are available free of charge from the fund management and the custodian bank.

Investors are advised that they may lodge any objections to the intended changes to the fund contract with the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority FINMA, Einsteinstrasse 2, P.O. Box, CH-3003 Berne, within 30 days of this notice, or request redemption of their units in cash.
