

Instructions to securities dealers

Merger of certain subfunds of Credit Suisse Equity Fund (Lux) into certain subfunds of Aberdeen Global

Reimbursement of Swiss stamp duty by Credit Suisse AG to securities dealers

Further to the notice to the unitholders of the Credit Suisse Equity Fund (Lux) on 6 April 2010, the Board of Credit Suisse Equity Fund Management Company decided to merge the below mentioned subfunds into subfunds of Aberdeen Global. The units will be exchanged on 14 May 2010 on the basis of the adjusted¹ net asset value per unit of the relevant Discontinuing subfunds and the net asset value per share of the relevant Continuing subfunds calculated on 14 May 2010.

Credit Suisse AG will reimburse the Swiss stamp duty of 0.15% resulting upon completion of the merger from the issuance of new shares in the Continuing subfunds. The securities dealers should enter the stamp duty in their turnover register (stamp duty journal) and directly pay this amount to the Federal Tax Administration. The impacted securities dealers can request the amount due from Credit Suisse AG by using the attached claim form. The unit exchange should be performed without charging depositors stamp duty. The reimbursement will only apply to effectively exchanged units.

Securities dealers are asked to forward this instruction and the attached stamp duty claim form to investors who could have depositors subject to Swiss Stamp Duty.

Securities dealers should also consider the information on the following pages.

¹ The Net Asset Values of the Discontinuing Funds calculated on 14 May 2010 will be adjusted in order to align the valuation methodology and different valuation points of the Discontinuing and Continuing Funds as well as to include the total expense ratio ("TER") protection and custody transfer cost deduction provided to some sub-funds of the Continuing Fund,

2. Stamp duty

Credit Suisse AG will reimburse the stamp duty of 0.15% resulting upon completion of the merger from the issuance of new shares in the above mentioned Continuing subfunds.

In order to effect this, securities dealers should notify Credit Suisse AG by 31 May 2010, 6:00 pm by using the attached claim form on the Swiss stamp duty resulting upon completion of the merger. The exchange of unit holdings which are subject to stamp duty should be executed without charging the depositors any stamp duty. The share exchange ratio will be communicated to the securities dealers separately.

Credit Suisse AG will subsequently reimburse the securities dealers the total stamp duty amount due per ISIN (approx. end of June 2010).

It has to be noted that the following investors are exempt from the payment of Swiss stamp duty:

- a) Sovereigns, central banks and foreign banks;
- b) domestic collective investment schemes according to Art. 7 KAG;
- c) foreign collective investment schemes according to Art. 119 KAG;
- d) foreign social insurance facilities;
- e) foreign pension and occupational insurance facilities;
- f) foreign life insurance companies which are governed by a foreign supervisor comparable to the domestic federal authorities;
- g) foreign companies whose shares are listed on a recognised stock exchange as well as their foreign consolidated subsidiaries.

For further details please refer to Art. 17a of the federal stamp duty act.

3. Due date

The attached stamp duty claim form should be received by Credit Suisse AG by 31 May 2010, 6.00 pm.

Credit Suisse AG reserves the right to obtain a written confirmation from the audit division of the respective security dealer in case of any uncertainty with respect to the accuracy of the information reported on the claim form. Credit Suisse AG will not reimburse the stamp duty claimed by securities dealers if they fail to submit the forms in time. In such cases the securities dealers will bear the stamp duty paid to the Federal Tax Administration as the exchange should be free of charge for the depositors.
